TWO KILLED.

Wm. Vinson, Sr. and Wiley Litteral

Lose Their Lives in a Battle Resulting From Raid By Officers.

William Vinson, Sr., and Wiley Litteral were killed last Saturday morning on Tug river, 15 miles southeast of Louisa.

The stories given out by the two opposing sides are so much at variance that The NEWS can not reconcile them into one statement, and the only fair thing left for us is to publish both stories.

THE OFFICERS' STORY.

The following statement is based upon the story of the officers:

In a fierce encounter between United States Revenue officers and relatives of a man for whom they had warrants, two men were instantly killed near the mouth of Coon Creek, Tug river, at an early hour last Saturday morning. Coon creek empties into Tug river on the West Virginia side, about 15 miles above Louisa. For many months that region, on both sides of the river, has been the scene of repeated violations of the law, both Federal and State. The violators were bold and defiant, and the arrest of the violators was a very difficult matter. On this account captures were few, and it has occurred that prisoners had been taken from the arresting officers by force of arms. About a month ago it is said that Bill Vinson, Sr., his son, Fillmore Vinson, and Morris Bates overpowered Constable Ro. Sammons and Wiley Litteral, a special deputy, and took from them Joe Vinson, whom they had under arrest. This was on the Kentucky side of the river. In this encounter somebody fired a shot at Sammons which cut a lock of hair from his head.

Sheriff Richard Stone had a warrant for the arrest of these parties, charged with rescuing a prisoner, and Deputy United States Marshal Dan Cunningham, of West Virginia, had a warrant for the arrest of Joe Vinson and others charged with illegally selling whiskey and removing goods from a storehouse after they had been seized by a United States officer. This latter offense, it is by the Government, made a felony.

The difficulty in effecting an arrest, the dangerous character of the offenders and the possibility of a rescue induced the United States officers and the civil authorities on the Kentucky side of the river to plan a raid. Sheriff Stone's posse consisted of himself, Marshal Fred Marcum, J. C. and Henry Johns, Ro. Sammons and two brothers and Wiley Litteral.

The posse from West Virginia consisted of Deputy Marshals Dan Cunningham, Sam Davis, T. G. Cochran, and nine other men from Huntington and Charleston.

It had been agreed that the raid should not be made until after daylight, and up to a certain point the plans as perfected were carried out. Most of the party went up on the N. and W. Friday night. Sheriff Stone and one or two others went up the Point on the Kentucky side during the night. The riding party divided into three squads, one, consisting of Sheriff Stone, Henry Johns and Constable Sammons was to watch the house of Joe Vinson, which is on the Kentucky side. Another headed by Marshal Fred Marcum watched the shanty boat of Morris Bates, while a third, consisting of United States Marshals Cunningham, Davis and Cochran, and Wiley Litteral as a special deputy, watched the house of Bill Vinson, Sr. It is not exactly known what caused it, but the plan of attack was changed. While Stone and his party were still on the Kentucky side of the river the Government party closed in on the Vinson house to effect an arrest.

Dan Cunningham posted Litteral, Davis and Cochran about the house, while he went to the front door and demanded entrance. It was partly opened and instantly shut again. It was forced open, and the battle was on. Litteral fell almost immediately, exclaiming, "They have killed me." Shot after shot rang out on the frosty air, bringing the other posers to the scene of action. The presence of these officers put an end to the battle. Sitting on the ground, his back against a fence, Wiley Litteral breathed his last. Bill Vinson, bareheaded, and in his sock feet, lay upon the ground, shot and stabbed to death.

These were the fatalities. Joe Vinson, who lives on this side of the river, ran out of the house, only to be stopped at the mouth of a Winchester and arrested and froned.

Wiley Litteral's body was pierced by four or five bullets, and the left side of his neck was open from ear to chin by a stab from a knife. Two or three bullets entered near his heart, and one on the left side passed clear through his body, passing out on the right side and going through his right arm.

But one shot had hit Bill Vinson. This passed through the left side of his body, near the arm, but he had also received several stabs in the back, just behind the heart, which must have penetrated that vital organ. A dirk with a spring blade seven inches long and covered with blood was found in the house, and it is supposed that this weapon made the wounds in the old man's body.

The news of this tragedy reached Louisa early on Saturday morning and caused much excitement. All the parties were well known. Stone, Marcum and Litteral being residents of this city. It was known that Litteral had been killed, and rumor had wounded Stone and Marcum. A train on the N. & W. arrived from Webb about 9 o'clock bringing the body of Litteral. The Government officers had in custody Joe, young Bill and "Painter" Vinson and Morris Bates, who were taken to Huntington for trial. They also brought along 25 full cases of bottled whiskey, two dozen bottles in each case, which they had captured in a building near Vinson's house.

Litteral's body was taken to the Dotson hotel in Fort Gay where it was dressed, placed in a casket and brought to his home at this place. On Sunday afternoon the body was interred in the cemetery after a funeral service at the M. E. Church, of which he was a member. The service was conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Hanford, assisted by Rev. Garland Riggan, of the Baptist church.

Litteral was about 45 years of age, and a native of Johnson county. He left a son about 15 years of age, a child by his former wife.

He had "done time" in the penitentiary for crimes committed in Carter County.

The parties who were taken to Huntington were brought before United States Commissioner Graham in Huntington and the preliminary hearing set for Saturday. Meanwhile they were released on their own recognizance.

Wm. Vinson was somewhat addicted to drink in his younger days, but for eight or ten years has been living a correct life and was a local Baptist preacher. During the past month he had been considerably wrought up over the troubles of his son. He was regarded as absolutely fearless.

The Vinson relatives do not uphold Joe Vinson, who has been violating the law for some time, but they are incensed over the killing of his father, Wm. Vinson. Joe came to Louisa and surrendered to the officers the first of this week and gave bond for his appearance to answer the charges against him on this side of the river. Painter and Bill Vinson, Jr., are 18 and 20 years old.

AS TOLD BY THE FAMILY.

The following statement given out by the Vinson family is reprinted from the Fort Gay Leader:

"On this fatal Saturday morning a posse of some eighteen men, armed to the hilt, with blood hounds at their heels, marched upon the house of William Vinson and the following is the story of the tragedy enacted there as told by members of the family who were present and saw it all.

While Mrs. Vinson, wife of William Vinson, was in the kitchen preparing breakfast, and his little boy was building a fire in the grate, a hello was heard from the outside. The boy answered the call and Mr. Vinson was called for. He told the boy to invite them in, and said they made some excuse, but said they wanted to see Mr. Vinson, and he told them that he would be out as soon as he could get up and dress. The boy told his father that there was a great crowd of men, and by the time Mr. Vinson could draw on his trousers and socks, he heard them surrounding the house. He then walked to the back door where a pistol was hanging, and reached up to get it, as he did so two men of the gang pushed open the front door, and without a word of halt, current, or consider yourself under arrest, they both fired at Vinson shooting him in the back. Almost at the same instant Wiley Litteral shoved open the door where Vinson was standing and was shot down by Vinson. Litteral fell on the floor and Vinson pitched over him, both mortally wounded. One of the men who had shot Vinson then came in and drawing a big knife began stabbing Vinson in the back. By this time Fillmore, another son of William Vinson, who was sleeping upstairs came down shooting, and the man with the knife fled leaving the knife sticking in Vinson's back. The whole posse then fled, and Mrs. Vinson persuaded Fillmore to leave, fearing that they would come back and kill him, which he did, taking with him Litteral's gun, which had not been fired. Some 30 minutes after this, Sheriff Dick Stone of Louisa, with some deputies, who had gone up the river some little distance and arrested Joe Vinson and Morris Bates, and coming down on the Kentucky side heard the shooting, crossed with their prisoners to the West Virginia side at the scene of the tragedy, and upon their arrival the fleeing officers returned to the house where Vinson and Litteral lay dead.

After their return the conduct of some of the Deputy Marshals was indeed horrible. It is claimed that one of them kicked Mrs. Vinson's little girl and made her go upstairs and light matches for him that he might see if any one else was there. That he struck Mrs. Vinson over the head with a gun, ransacked the house, kicked open a trunk, scattered its contents over the floor, and carried off $250 in money which was in the trunk and burst open a small cabinet hanging on the wall in which Mr. Vinson kept his valuable papers and scattered its contents all over the floor, and showed themselves to be anything else, rather than a competent officer of the law."

The Facts in the Case.

Rev. Zephaniah Meek, of Catlettsburg, has given the story a black eye about the sign painter, who put the a "The" before the intended name Alka, and calling the boat Thealka. He says the true facts of the little packet's peculiar name are these. Captain Green Meek, who built the boat, named her the Alka, after the nickname of his only daughter, who was named Alice. The papers were made out by the proper authorities and forwarded to Washington but the department, to avoid a conflict of names prefixed "The" and thus changed the name to Thealka. If it had only been a question of painting the name, that could have been remedied with little trouble.

Capt. Green Meek resided at Paintsville, and his daughter Miss Alice, or Alka, is now the wife of the Hon. J. C. Mayo, of that place. Ashland Independent.

FOR MURDER

Joe Sammons Arrested for Killing John Smith.

Last Sunday a week ago Joe Sammons was arrested on a charge of murder and was brought to Louisa and lodged in jail. Later in the week, a deputy sheriff came from Wayne with the proper papers and carried Sammons to Wayne and placed him in jail there.

Sammons, as was chronicled in this paper, is the man who figured last spring in the brutal and cowardly murder of Young John Smith, son of the well known Pike county farmer of that name, living at Canada, on the road from Williamson to Pike.

Young Smith was "hoboing" on a west bound freight with Sammons as a companion. The latter found that Smith had some money, and near Webb, he shot his companion, threw him from the train, leaped after him and rifled his pockets of the few dollars they contained before making his escape to the mountains of Kentucky, where he has been in hiding until his capture on Sunday.

Must Look to His Laurels.

Ashland, Ky., Dec. 4.—Mrs. Nevil Bledsoe was horrified yesterday to discover her three-year-old boy slowly being strangled to death in an immense jar of blackberry jam, much taller than the child, which had been placed in a partition of the house and was lower than the door. The child in attempting to pass from one section to another stepped into the jar of jam and immediately sank. The jam was a good deal like quicksand allowing the little fellow to gradually disappear.

We are glad the child "disappeared so gradually" in that "immense jar of blackberry jam" that his friends rescued him. A three-year-old child is about three feet high. Who ever saw a jar that high?

Baron Munchausen, of the Huntington press, must look to his laurels.

Fort Gay Items.

Fort Gay Leader.

James Trent, administrator of Alex. Trent, has sold his farm on Twelve Pole, known as the Simeon Workman farm to Gage Ingram for $3,100.

On Saturday evening, November 28th, little Katherine Welch was badly burned, her clothing catching fire while playing near a gas stove.

The people of Fort Gay were shocked last Monday evening to learn of the death of Samuel M. Honaker, which occurred at 2:30 o'clock p. m. Mr. Honaker had been complaining for several days, but it was not thought his trouble was serious, until Friday, when he suddenly grew worse, and continued to sink until the end came.

Mrs. Honaker left with the body on No. 15 yesterday for Varoqua, where the funeral will take place on arrival.

William Hatton, living on Dock's Creek, in Wayne county added a house burning to a hog killing jollification Tuesday. While the family were engaged in cutting up the slaughtered animals, coals fell from the large open fire and as a result two rooms of the house were destroyed. When the conflagration was discovered they gave their attention to fighting the fire. A younger son blinded by the smoke dashed a bucket of hot water into his mother's face. She was not seriously injured.—Huntington Dispatch.

Bottling Works in New Hands.

Mr. T. J. Crumpler, of Marytown, W. Va., has purchased the Louisa Bottling Works plant at this place and will move here in January to take charge of the business. He has rented a new residence on Powhattan street built by E. E. Shannon. He comes to Louisa well recommended both as a business man and a desirable citizen and we welcome him to our town. He has been store manager for a large coal company for quite awhile.

Opposes Civil Service.

Representative Hughes, of West Virginia, is not enamored of the executive orders placing the fourth-class postmasters under civil service.

"West Virginia was not included in the order," continued Mr. Hughes, "and I will be glad if the President does not take it in. According to my opinion there are enough offices under the civil service law already. After the interval revenue officers were taken in there was about nothing left for the Congressmen in the way of patronage but the fourth-class postmaster. Now they would take him away. I don't care so much about the mere patronage, for I don't want the naming of men for office particularly, but I only think it is fair that some one is left in the community who can take a little interest in politics without being jumped on by the civil service.

"Suppose that I am in Washington here, and learn that something is wrong in my district that may have a very important effect upon my future political career. Under present conditions I would immediately write a letter of inquiry to some fourth-class postmaster friend, and in due time would receive a reply that would give me a bird's eye view of the situation. If the postmaster goes under the civil service he will not dare to ask a question without running the risk of being beheaded for 'pernicious political activity.'"

TYPHOID

Germs Are Found in the Milk of Many Cows.

The outbreaks of typhoid fever which have been traced directly to milk supply seem to warrant our calling the attention of the dairyman and the consumer and those owning and milking their own cows, as well, to some of the more common practices which are responsible for those epidemics. There is no longer any question that a specific germ, bacillus typhosus, is the cause of typhoid fever. Moreover, we know that the most frequent channels of infection are through food and drink, especially the latter. Clean, sanitary milk does not contain the germs of typhoid, but clean, absolutely clean, milk is the exception. It is the ordinary milk man with a few cows, a dark, vile smelling cow shed, and a filthy, boggy barnyard with manure knee deep, that menaces public health. In the summer time flies offer one of the most dangerous means of spreading disease. One minute they are feeding upon typhoid excreta, legs and probosces pattered with infectious material, and the next they are swarming the stable and milk house, getting into everything and moulating the milk with the germs of disease. The people of Ashland have had the water furnished by the water company examined and found it swarming with germs. The next point of examination should be the dairies.

What the Goosebone Shows.

A disciple of the late Prof. Elias A. Hartz, of goosebone fame, has made a reading of the goosebone for the following winter and solemnly makes the following prediction: The real winter will begin December 10, and from that date until February 1 the weather will be cold and stormy. From February 1 to 15 will be mild, when storms will set in and last until spring.

Two very heavy snows are predicted, such as will tie up railroad traffic, the thermometer will remain below zero for several days at a time and there will be an enormous ice crop.

December and May.

Capt. William Bartram, of Clifford, was recently married to Miss Florida Sammons. The Captain is a great grandfather, some distance in the seventies, while his bride is only 19.

CHILD

Was Burned to Death.

Woodson Gearheart Loses His Residence and Little Daughter at Blaine.

The saddest occurrence that ever happened in the town of Blaine occurred Monday at 11 o'clock. The house of Woodson Gearheart caught fire either from the grate or a defective flue in the kitchen and when discovered was beyond control. A little girl about two years old was asleep in the house and could not be rescued. The body was taken from the burning debris before it was cremated. Mrs. Gearheart had gone only a short distance to see a sick woman, Mrs. Chaffin, and had left her house in charge of her thirteen year old daughter. The girl had put the baby to sleep and had gone out with the other children to play.

She had gone only about 40 or 50 feet from the house but failed to discover the fire until it was too late to save the child or anything from the house. It was recess time at the school and the school boys were about the first to be on the scene. Jesse Cyrus, who lives only a few feet away, was perhaps the first to discover the fire and tried to force his way into the house to save the child, but the flames drove him back.

Mr. Gearheart was on his way to Louisa with his team, but was notified by telephone and returned home heart broken.

The work of the school boys and others deserve credit for their heroic efforts in saving the houses of Mrs. Roberts and Jesse Cyrus. They worked like trained firemen and it seems like an act of providence that the fire was confined to one house. Water had to be carried a great distance, but was done with great dispatch.

Teacher.

Important Decision.

On the third of this month the State Board of Education made a decision of great importance to teachers, particularly those who don't like to attend institutes. They can hardly be blamed for not wanting to attend some which are inflicted upon them, but that is neither here nor there. The Board upheld Prof. J. B. Crabbe, superintendent of public instruction, in his action in sustaining the county school superintendent of Clark county, who revoked the school certificate of J. H. Thomas.

The style of the case was Thomas against Tanner, and it has been pending for some time. C. A. Tanner as county school superintendent of Clark county, took away the certificate to teach which had been issued to Thomas, because Thomas failed to attend a meeting of the teachers in a county institute. Thomas appealed his case to the State Superintendent, as is provided by law. Prof. Crabbe sustained the county superintendent and an appeal was then taken to the Board of Education. The latter board sustained Prof. Crabbe, and Thomas loses his right to teach school in the county of Clark.

The B. of E.

The Board of Equalization has adjourned its sittings until Monday night. Meanwhile City Marshal Marcum is serving eighty-six taxpayers with notice that their property has suddenly increased in value, and inviting them to call and show cause, if any, why their taxes should not be correspondingly increased.

School Money Here.

The November money for the Lawrence County school teachers is now being paid to them. The December money is due tomorrow but so far it cannot be told whether it will come or not. It will be a fine Christmas present for our worthy teachers.

Twelve stalwart men, selected as pallbearers, removed the casket from the home after the door casing had been taken out.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 3.—The Court of Appeals today reversed the judgment of the Clark Circuit Court in the case of the Commonwealth against B. F. French, Judge Lassing writing. This action involves the action of the Governor to remit the claim of the Commonwealth for damages in the contempt case wherein French was fined $5,000 and given a pardon by Gov. Willson, whereby he remitted all of the judgment, commissions, fees and costs.

The Commonwealth contended that the $500 damages assessed in the judgment is a part of the fine and the court says the Governor's pardon does not reach it. "The pardon in this case was exhausted when it had relieved appellee from the payment of the State's part of the $5,000 fine. It affords him no relief as to the damages any further than it does to commissions, costs and taxed fees," says the court.

The Isaac Shelby medallion which was stolen from the safe in the Governor's reception room at the executive offices is now said to be worth a great deal more than that as a relic. A letter was received the other day from Ed O. Leigh, former Gov. J. C. Beckham's private secretary, stating that the medallion was returned by the photographer who borrowed it to use in front of his camera. Mr. Leigh says that he had the medallion in the office several times after the photographer had it, and that it was not missed until just before Gov. Beckham went out of office. No trace has been found of the missing souvenir.

Gov. Willson commuted the sentence of Robert Hocker, the negro who was to have been hanged at Lexington. In stating his reasons for commuting the sentence of Hocker to a life term in the penitentiary, Gov. Willson said, in a long opinion, that he did not think that Hocker had premeditatedly committed the crime and that the story of the killing was probably not told in its entirety to the jury. The commutation of Hocker created some excitement at Lexington, although there was little of the mob spirit expressed.

Job Printing

Some of you are paying more for your job printing than the Big Sandy News office charges, and getting a poorer class of work and a cheaper grade of stock. It is worth your while to investigate.

RUBBER STAMPS.

Rubber stamps are a great convenience for certain purposes. They are not suitable for printing your letter heads and envelopes. Neatly printed stationery looks business-like and is cheaper, all things considered, than buying blank stock and stamping it yourself.

Rheumatic Pains

"My mother is a great sufferer from rheumatism, and Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills is the only remedy that relieves her."

MRS. G. DAVENPORT, Roycefield, N. J.

The pains of rheumatism are almost invariably relieved with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They also overcome that nervous irritation which prevents sleep because they soothe the nerves. To chronic sufferers they are invaluable. When taken as directed, they relieve the distress and save the weakening influence of pain, which so frequently prostrates. Many sufferers use them whenever occasion requires with the greatest satisfaction, why not you? They do not derange the stomach nor create a habit. Why not try them? Get a package from your druggist. Take it according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

WOULD MORTGAGE THE FARM.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Empire, Ga., W. A. Floyd, by name, says "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage the farm to get it." Only 25c at A. M. Hughes' drug store.

Paintsville.

—Paintsville Herald—

The piers of the bridge to be built across the river at Pikeville are completed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walker, relict of the late George Walker, and mother of Rev. William Walker, of this city, died at her home on Tom's creek, Sunday. The funeral was conducted by the Rev. A. H. Davis, of Catlettsburg.

As predicted last week, Sam Stapleton has filed contest proceedings before the Johnson county Republican Committee, contesting the nomination of Dr. F. M. Bayes for County Attorney. Dr. Bayes has a majority on the face of the returns of 21 votes. Mr. Stapleton alleges irregularities in Whitehouse precinct and alleges that numerous Democrats voted for Dr. Bayes in other precincts. The petition is quite lengthy.

Garfield Blair and Abel Caudill, brothers-in-law, both residing in the Barretts creek precinct, wanted to make the race in the primary for Assessor. Both tried to get the other off the track and friends tried to compromise matters for them but without effect. Both went through, both got the same number of votes.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil is the means of life and enjoyment of life to thousands: men, women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food when you hate it and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

Home Circle Column.

A Column Dedicated to Tired Mothers as They Join the Home Circle.

What is your weight in your home and social circle. Test it by considering how many pounds of good nature you have contributed to make your home and friends more cheerful. An ounce of sweetness will make you weigh more at home than a pound of undue harshness or of forgetfulness.

If you can have help enough to keep your household machinery in perfect running order without installing a machine of yourself, do so by all means. White floors are lovely shining tinware is very nice, spotless windows and high polished silver are a delight and meaning basket, emptied every week is much to be desired, but there are things of more importance, and it all depends upon one pair of hands, one back and one set of nerves, for the sake of your own sake, for your children's sake, don't.

Don't be afraid to do your duty. A man who has opinions of his own and courage to advocate them, will be sure to have opposition in his world, because he runs across or contrary to other people's opinions, but just keep straight ahead if your conscience is clear. Don't bother yourself about what people say; life is too short for that. Some will abuse you through envy, and others for want of sense and others still for want of principle and some because they earnestly differ with you; but if you keep right on openly, manfully, intelligently and with proper dignity of character, honesty of purpose and self respect, those who honestly differ with you will respect you as your opinion.

Natural tact will do much, but it cannot supply the place of education. When a woman has learned to make a pudding, she has learned but the smallest part of her duty. She needs to know how to sit at the table and dispense a hospitality so cordial and enlivening that the pudding shall be forgotten. There are a thousand women who can make a pudding where there is one who is mistress of her servants, her children, her husband or her home, of her position. A woman who is all such a description implies is one who must fit herself for it by cherishing great thoughts and a noble appreciation of her responsibility. She must be mistress of a store of ideas and an exhaustless fund of general knowledge. The sphere of the woman is to provide over the home as its light and inspiration. No charms so captivating, no grace so irresistible, no spirit so exuberant, no wit so cheery, as culture so varied but can find in the home a fit place for their varied charms.

The want of true culture in this world causes more unhappiness than does the presence of poverty. Kindness, thoughtfulness and courtesy are not remarkable commodities, but but they are qualities indispensable to symmetrical character. Eyes open to the truth see that true culture is not exclusiveness but approachableness; not haughtiness but agreeableness; that shallow pretensions of social supremacy based on bank accounts are the sign of coarseness, not culture; that lofty are the mark of low breeding, not high; that true culture, liketh charity, is not puffed up, vaunteth not itself, is life-kind, it is companionable and gives sympathy with every phase of life, and ability to work most successfully for human welfare and advancement. Character makes the man; character plus culture makes the gentleman, and the true gentleman is the real nobleman of this world. Culture is the rose on the breast of character. Wear it that you may make life not only honorable, but high, sweet and helpful, noble and divine.

Whoever becomes a man of influence by sitting, grieving and moaning under the harrow of despondency? What drone over the benefits the world, his friends or himself? There is nothing like action coupled with cheerfulness. We see it everywhere. Who is he sitting on that empty barrel at the corner? A man with no energy—a prey to grief. He does not know what to do or how to start. Who is that man standing in the market place? A lazy, do-little, shiftless sort of fellow, hardly earning his bread and butter, whining hard times and nothing to do. Don't wish to become such a character? If not, arouse yourself. Away from the arm chair, up from the gutter, out of the downy bed. Move your arms, kick your feet and stir about. Give the blood a chance to circulate through the veins, and the air of heaven to enter your lungs. Seize the first job presented and dispatch it at once; lay up the pay and get another forthwith.

You will soon earn enough to purchase a wheelbarrow or hand-cart and then you will begin to live. Who knows what you will become? Energy is half omnipotent. Small beginnings and large gains. A penny well turned brings a large fortune. Resolve, then do something and let something and our word for it you will thank us for this plain spoken advice.

She is the girl who is not "too bright and good" to be able to find joy and pleasure all over the world.

She is the girl who appreciates the fact that she cannot always have the first choice of everything in the world. She is the girl who is not aggressive and does not find joy in inciting aggressive people.

She is the girl who has tact enough not to say the very thing that will cause the skeleton in her friend's closet to rattle his bones.

She is the girl who, whether it is warm or cold, clear or stormy, finds no fault with the weather.

She is the girl who, when you invite her any place, compliments you by looking her best.

She is the girl who is sweet and womanly to look at and listen to, and who doesn't strike you as a poor imitation of demi-mondaine.

She is the girl who makes this world a pleasant place because she is so pleasant herself.

And, by and by, when you come to think of it, isn't she the girl who makes you feel she likes you, and, therefore, you like her.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Transylvania and Kentucky State Universities will be pitted against each other this year for the debate held annually by the State Intercollegiate Debating Society. If a subject has not already been chosen the NEWS suggests "Hazing, Or What Became Of William Smith."

The Supreme Court of the United

United States Circuit Court for the Eastern district of Virginia holding unconstitutional the order of the State corporation commission fixing a 2-cent passenger rate of State business the effect being to uphold the order.

At the Capital they claim to have an entirely new breed of fowl.
It is a cross between a guinea and a light brahma hen. The fowl has a voice like a guinea and a head like a chicken, feet and legs like a guinea, its color and size like a chicken. Frankfort "licker" has caused many to see some curious things, but this is the latest.

The Democratic caucus elected Champ Clark, of Missouri, to the House leadership, succeeding John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi. The new leader is a native of Kentucky, having been born in Anderson county.
He is now serving his seventh term in the House, and for several years has taken a prominent part in legislation. He brings to the office the ripe experience of long congressional career and a bushel of good common sense.

The last regular message of President Roosevelt, as twenty-sixth President of the United States to the National Congress was read to Congress last Monday. The Sixtieth Congress convened that day.
There would be more popular interest in the session of Congress itself if there were any prospects of an attempt at tariff revision. Inasmuch as it is generally assumed that this will be deferred for an extraordinary session to be called after the inauguration of President Taft, the session falls into the category of routine so far as the ordinary citizen is concerned.

The "Game of Business."

So ingrained is the love of sport—of playing the game—that most business men who really amount to much in corporate, in their management of things, certain elements of contest and struggle.

To "beat last year's record" is the hope of every hustling business man—to accomplish more—to build up to win—to push the enterprise further along toward the goal than ever before—are the motives which impel men to struggle, to scheme, to use reserves of energy, of money, of ideas.

During the year to come some business houses in this city are going to establish new records, new high-water marks, in volume of business done, and in net profits. Others are going to fall behind the records of 1908.

No merchant is going to do more business in 1909 than he did in 1908 unless he does more and better advertising. That's not guess-work; it's not nonsense. It's merely one of the "rules of the game" of business—and you can't win at any game unless you play according to the rules.

For the boys you can not get a Christmas present that will please as well as those Wabash Coaster Wagons at Snyder Hardware Company's.

This is absolutely the very latest thing in coats for smart wear and our assortment embraces everything new and good found under this head. We have all the new styles from 30 to 52 inches in length and beautifully trimmed in the newest fashion. You should avail yourself of the special opportunity to purchase one of the coats while you can—you know that these popular and scarce styles are very difficult to obtain in the market and the sale of the present stock will exhaust our entire supply.

New Satin Coats $20.00 to $50.00.

We have an excellent assortment of these in all the rays of colors and the newest styles for the season. We have them from thirty inches to 50 inches in length and representing everything new and pleasing in this line. These are great favorites this season and while not quite so popular as the velour coats they are less expensive and extremely stylish.

Broadcloth and Kersey Coats, $10 to $35.

For everyday and street wear nothing will quite take the place of these coats and we have a superb stock carefully selected and representing the various new effects that have made their appearance this season. In addition to these we have a complete line of the new raincoats in the moire, satin, and silk, all colors and prices.

C. B. Lambert, of Huntington, was here last week. He will be a bidder for the contract to plaster the college building.

Citizens of the three towns think the time propitious for joining Huntington, Central City and Guyandotte into one corporation.

Those who have "put off" a good deal of the gift buying until now should save their time by making a quick study of the ads.

L. E. Fitzwater has moved from the Burchett property on Madison street to property on the corner of Main Cross and Powhattan.

His friends will be sorry to learn that Will Crutcher's health is again so bad that he has been compelled to go to a hospital for relief.

The tax supervisors for the city are now at work as a board of equalization. They are W. N. Sullivan, At Wellman and J. G. Burns.

Wayne Osborn has moved into the Floyd Wellman house recently vacated by Mr. Belcher on the corner of Main Cross and Powhattan streets.

Dr. Z. A. Thompson went to Lexington Thursday to see Mrs. Thompson. There is some improvement in her mental condition.—Pikeville Plain Dealer.

Dr. and Mrs. Bromley were in Cincinnati recently, visiting their daughter, Miss Clara, who is attending school there. She was quite sick several days but is now well.

Advertisements are so much a part of the news of the day that if a newspaper omitted them it would lose the support of all people who are connected with human affairs and interests.

William Chaffin, a prominent citizen of Martha, was in Louisa Tuesday en route to Paintsville. Mr. Chaffin is manager for a big stove concern and went to Johnson county en business for the firm.

While riding a bicycle in Ashland Virginia, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Russell, was thrown from the wheel, and fell heavily to the paved street, breaking her left arm below the elbow.

Any issue of this paper which does not contain an adequate advertisement of your business—all that you have to say, about it to the readers of that issue of this paper represents a wasted opportunity for you.

Mrs. Robert Runyon, of Catlettsburg, dropped dead at the home of her father, William Young. She was a young woman, about 24, and the mother of one child. Louisa was headquarters for Mrs. Runyon's father 25 years ago. He was agent for the Singer Sewing Machine Co.

The ladies made a grand success of the Bazar held last week. A fine display of needle work and things in that line was offered for sale, and, best of all, it was sold. About $78 was realized from this sale.

The case of Mrs. Florence Maybrick and her mother, the Baroness Von Roque, of New York, involving the title to land said to be worth $2,500,000, was decided in their favor in the Chancery Court at Richmond, Va. Much of this land is in Eastern Kentucky and West Virginia.

Henry Knight, a laborer, was shot and killed in Ashland last Friday afternoon by a man named Hall. The shooting occurred in the back yard of a house on 7th street, and the wounded man ran into the street and fell dead. Hall accused Knight of trying to assault his little daughter.

Were it not for this paper the people living opposite Coal Grove, O., would not get much news from this section. It furnished them about three columns of fairly interesting matter lately. They probably read it in their local paper, but they didn't know it was taken from the Big Sandy News.

The Christmas stock at Conley's store will be ready for your inspection by the 14th. Go early and get choice of selections. We have avoided buying duplicates as far as possible, so that there may be as much variety as possible to select from and so as to give each something different.

The infant child of Raisie Blankenship, who lives on Greenbrier, near this city, died at Greenup last Sunday. It had been taken there by its grandmother, Mrs. Gambill, she hoping by that means to improve its health. The body was brought to Louisa and on Sunday it was taken to Greenbrier for burial.

C. O. McDougle, well known to the storekeepers of the Big Sandy, has severed his connection with the Carter Dry Goods Company of Louisville, and is now the Kentucky representative of H. B. Claffin, New York, the largest dry goods company in the world. He will call on his business friends in this region as usual.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Huffman, Dr. W. A. Campbell and F. T. Hatcher, of Pikeville passed through Louisa last Sunday en route to Cincinnati where Mr. Huffman goes to consult a specialist. A week or so ago his nose began bleeding, and has continued periodically, in violent form, ever since. It is with the hope of stopping this bleeding that he was taken to Cincinnati for expert medical attention.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to express my gratitude to every one who rendered me any service connected with the funeral and burial of my husband, Wiley Littler. The people of Louisa were very kind to me during that sad time, and their kindness shall never be forgotten. Mrs. Littler.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Mrs. Lon Adams, nee Miss Lizzie Stone, residing at the corner of Center and North streets, in Catlettsburg, attempted suicide by shooting herself in the breast with a revolver. The bullet did not strike the heart. But the doctors say she cannot survive. She is the mother of several children, and the family was present when the rash act was committed.—Catlettsburg Tribune.

The ladies of the Baptist church will hold a Bazar at the store of C. B. Bromley next Thursday and Friday. They will display for sale a variety of such things as are usually desired for the holiday season, supplemented by many things grateful to the human palate. The cause for which the ladies are laboring so faithfully is a good one, and the patronage of the public, should be good as well.

The sale will continue during the day and evening.

Except for a peculiar rawness in his throat which made it most impossible for him to swallow Victor Caperton at the Huntington hospital where he has been under treatment since he fell unconscious at the door of the Red Raven restaurant Friday night, seems to be perfectly recovered. He still maintains his story that he was met in an alley by two men who offered him a drink. He is convinced that the whiskey which they offered him contained a drug tended to paralyze the muscles. He says that also he was perfectly conscious he was forced to stand by and submit to having one hundred and eighty dollars taken from one of his pockets. He had money in other parts of his clothing but this was overlooked by the robbers.—Huntington Dispatch.

IF YOU CAN'T COME WRITE US.

The new store is being favored with visits by companies of shoppers from a large territory. We have numbers of ladies on shopping tours frequently from Pikeville, Williamson, Logan, Point Pleasant and a number of other equally distant points. We are glad to welcome them. Now is the time of year when everybody wants to buy some big articles and a host of little ones. It is better to come to the store and see just what we have. The array of merchandise is remarkable and selections are easily made, but we have so many mail orders from territory within a hundred or so miles that we have found it necessary to have a regular shopper. For this very important task we have a young lady of good judgment, perfect taste, and thorough acquaintance with every part of the store, Miss Alice Senneby.

WE CAN SHOP FOR YOU

Orders by mail, or inquiries are referred to her and she makes careful selection and sees that the goods are promptly and properly forwarded. Prices are just as low as if you were here and you will be safe in leaving selections to her taste.

It only requires a letter stating your wishes to place all the stock of the new store at your disposal.

For Christmas you may want some hemstitched handkerchiefs, or a fancy comb, or some kid gloves, or some embroidered hosiery, or some fancy neckwear, or ribbons, or veils, or lace, or embroidery, or a waist, or a corset, or a hat pin, or a ruff, or a box, or some beads, or a fan or pretty umbrella.

You may want to match a piece of dress goods. We can match it.

You may want a pretty trimmed hat. We can send just what you would like.

You may want a fur piece. We have hundreds of them to choose from.

You may want a suit. State sizes, color preferred, and in general what you wish to pay and give some idea as to general style and we can supply the suit ready to put on.

You may want an elaborate evening wrap, or a silk raincoat, or some dainty underwear. State your wants and we can supply the goods.

OUR GUARANTEE.

As a guarantee that you will get the best and pay the right price for it, we call attention again to the fact that one of the proprietors of this store has been in the dry goods business in Huntington, thirty-eight years, another 27 years, and the third has been for years the buyer for the largest dry goods house in the state.

WE INVITE MAIL ORDERS

If you cannot come, but would like to show you through the finest store in the State.

FARM NEWS.

A well known farmer says: "Sprinkle sulphur on your barn floor and through your corn as you gather it, and there will not be a rat or mouse to bother it. I have done this for years and have never been bothered with a rat or mouse. I have some old corn in my crib at present and not a rat or mouse can be found. In stacking oats or hay, sprinkle a little on the ground and a little through each stack and my word for it, rats or mice can't stay there. A pound of sulphur will be sufficient to preserve a large barn of corn, and it is good for stock and will not hurt the corn for bread."

HOW TO FEED CATTLE.

A very costly mistake often made by farmers and cattle feeders, is failure to maintain the digestive function of their feeding animals at a healthy, normal activity. Ignorance lies at the bottom of this more often than carelessness. No one purposefully chooses a course likely to diminish profits.

Yet it is a fact, capable of demonstration, that many a thrifty steer or good milch cow loses, through too heavy feeding an over-taxed digestive system, the power of healthy assimilation, and "goes back" until the gain of months is lost.

One course alone promises immunity from such disaster—a regular, daily tonic dose, composed of elements proven beneficial, for each animal.

HOW TO PLANT A TREE.

1. Select first the tree best suited for your purpose, be that shade, ornamental, fruit, production of lumber, wind break or fence posts.

2. Bear in mind that the tree you are planting, if of property species, may be a shelter for and a pride of future generations, or if wrongly selected, it may last but a decade.

3. The one advantage, that of rapid growths, should not decide what tree to plant. Innumerable insects, fungoid diseases and the necessity for frequent pruning, besides a brief period of existence, may characterize the tree of your choice, and it should be discarded.

4. Where there is slight opportunity for frequent watering, tree species demanding large quantities of water should be discarded. They will be disappointing.

5. Elms, cottonwood and swamp maples are among those requiring much water.

The oaks, ash, sugar maple, Norway maple, walnut, catalpa, succeed with a moderate quantity of water.

6. Good roots in ample quantity are of vital importance to the tree's successful growth. In digging spare not labor, but secure all the roots possible without mutilation.

7. The top of a tree should not be mutilated. Cutting off the heading roots is extremely bad practice, only to be tolerated with cottonwood and soft (swamp) maples.

8. Too large a tree should be avoided.

9. Keep the roots fresh and moist by wrapping in wet burlap while conveying them to planting grounds.

10. Evergreens, especially, should be kept moist. When the resinous sap hardens from a few moments exposure to the sun.

11. The larger the hole, more thoroughly prepared the soil, the greater the care in planting, so much more satisfactory will be the growth and future development of the tree.

12. Grass sod is the deadly enemy of a newly set tree. No grass should be permitted within two feet of the trunk. The grass secures the first water which falls and in dry weather the trees suffer for want of moisture.

13. Digging the holes. A philosopher of the past century said "the ground should be prepared the full extent of the field," which assertion has never been disputed. The hole should never be less than four feet square and 18 inches deep. The soil, if not a good quality, should be removed and good loam brought to fill the cavity. If of less size, the new roots strike the hard sides of the excavation, which they cannot penetrate and are thus turned back, coiling about as in a flower pot. It thus requires several seasons for the trees to secure thrifty growth. No fresh manure should be placed near the roots, but well mixed with a friable fertile soil will produce a surprising growth of tree.

14. Planting the tree. The roots should be spread out in natural position without any crowding and fine earth sifted in from the shovel by a shaking motion until the roots are covered and the interstices well filled. When half filled, a bucket of water may be slowly poured in and the hole filled. If the soil is dry and the drainage good, the soil inclined to be wet, then the surface about the tree better be raised a trifle that the roots be not in too much water.—Arboriculture.

HAD A CLOSE CALL.

Mrs. Ada L. Croom, the widely known proprietor of the Croom Hotel, Vaughan, Miss., says: "For several months I suffered with a severe cough and consumption seemed to have its grip on me, when a friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery. I began taking it and three bottles effected a complete cure." The fame of this life-saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at A. M. Hughes' drug store, 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

The South.

What the South has done and what it is to do beyond anything yet to its credit are epitomized in this pamphlet, the most comprehensive and thorough statistical exposition of the progress and potentialities of the South that has ever been given to the public. Its progress in all material lines is first summarized in figures for 1880 and 1908, in comparison with the progress of the whole country, and then are given the figures for the periods by three States for population, phases of agriculture, lumbering, mining, manufacturing, transportation, commerce and banking, the totals under each head being compared with the totals in the whole country. Following general figures, special attention has been given to manufacturing, to the textile, pig iron, cottonseed and coke industries; and to lumbering as typical industries; in agriculture to cotton-growing and to the staple grains; in mining, coal, iron ore, petroleum and phosphate, together with an inventory, by States and by products, of the more than 50 different mineral products that have already gained commercial proportions; in finance, to the aggregate resources, the capital and the individual deposits of national banks in the three periods, and the deposits in other banking institutions not national. The advance in railroad mileage and in exports from Southern ports is also shown. Particular care has been taken to indicate as clearly and as fully as possible the vast opportunities in the South for farming, for lumbering for the mining of coal and iron, for the profitable reclamation of wet lands, for the utilization of water-powers in hydro-electric development and for the expansion of traffic upon the great network of waterways, inland and along the coasts.

Increase of the true value of property, the steady betterment of common school finances, and the question of altitudes, directly related to public health, are also treated, and as an aid to more extensive study, the figures of 1860 are, wherever possible, given in the various fields of Southern endeavor.

Finally the summary of progress between 1880 and 1900 and between 1900 and 1908 is given for each State, conservative estimates appearing when positive figures could not be used.

The whole constitutes a compact and convenient source of information about the South which cannot fail to appeal strongly to all men of affairs who may want to know promptly and fully the condensed facts about the South.

For more than 25 years the Manufacturers' Record has published as quickly as they have become accessible the magnificent facts of Southern achievement upon which these latest and most up-to-date statistics are based, and has, in addition, issued from time to time more or less elaborate summaries which have carried to the four quarters of civilization the knowledge about the South which has been so effective in hastening its material development. Coincidentally the Manufacturers' Record has furnished in printed matter or in personal correspondence to thousands of statesmen, educators, business men, newspapers and magazines similar material for orations, essays, editorials and other articles in the desire to neglect no opportunity or means of furthering the work of keeping the South and the rest of the world informed of the vast possibilities within the area stretching from Maryland and Texas. This pamphlet contains the cream of all those efforts.

A HEALTHY FAMILY.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills three years ago," writes L. A. Bartlett, of Rural Route one, Guilford Maine. They cleanse and tone the system, give a gentle way and does you good. 25c. at A. M. Hughes' drug store.

Kentucky About Dry.

Recent reports from the Anti-Saloon League in Kentucky show a surprising large area of "dry" territory in the State.

Kentucky has become a desert and there only a few county seats where a thirst for beer or whiskey may be quenched. But four counties out of the 119 are wholly wet, and but 21 are partly wet. In these that are partly wet intoxicants cannot be sold outside of the incorporated towns except at taverns and drug stores. The remaining counties are dry as a bone so far as the law is concerned, and the Anti-Saloon League has not yet closed its fight to make the present county unit law uniform of cover all counties including Jefferson, containing Louisville, the largest city of the State.

The counties in the State that are wholly wet are Jefferson, Campbell, Kenton and Nelson. Those partly wet are Boyle, Bell, Montgomery, Mason, Bourbon, Clark, Fayette, Franklin, Anderson, Shelby, Carroll, Boone, Meade, Warren, Daviess, Muhlenburg, Christian, Hopkins, Henderson, McCracken, Boyd and Caldwell.

Dry territory covers a vast area and is made up of the following counties: Greenup, Lawrence, Johnson, Floyd, Pike, Letcher, Harlan, Leslie, Perry, Knott, Magoffin, Morgan, Elliott, Carter, Lewis, Rowan, Menifee, Wolfe, Breathitt, Clay, Knox, Whitley, Laurel, Jackson, Owsley, Lee, Powell, Bath, Fleming, Nicholas, Estill, Madison, Rockcastle, Pulaski, Wayne, Clinton, Russell, Casey, Lincoln, Garrard, Jessamine, Harrison, Bracken, Robertson, Pendleton, Grant, Owen, Woodford, Mercer, Martin, Boyle, Cumberland, Adair, Taylor, Marion, Washington, Henry, Gallatin, Trimble, Oldham, Bullitt, Spencer, Larue, Hart, Green, Metcalfe, Monroe, Allen, Barren, Hardin, Breckenridge, Grayson, Edmonson, Simpson, Logan, Butler, Ohio, Hancock, McLean, Todd, Webster, Union, Crittenden, Trigg, Callaway, Lyon, Livingston, Graves, Ballard, Carlisle, Hickman and Fulton.

FOUR ECLIPSES.

And Halley's Comet Coming In 1909.

There will be four eclipses in the year 1909, two of the sun and two of the moon.

The first will be a total of the moon June 3, the moon rising more or less eclipsed. The second will be the Central of the sun June 17, visible throughout the United States except in the extreme southwestern portion.

The third will be a total of the moon on the evening of Nov. 26 and the morning of the 27th, visible. The fourth will be a partial of the sun December 12, invisible. April 11 will be Easter Sunday, and May 30 Whit Sunday.

Halley's comet, by some supposed to be the Star of Bethlehem, is due in 1909-10. It will probably be visible to the naked eye in October, 1909. Its period is about 75 years and it has been observed at these intervals since the 15th century. Records show its probable return many centuries earlier. The comet's last visit was in 1835 when its tail was about twenty degrees.

The Earlier You Do Christmas Buying THE BETTER YOU DO IT.

Start your buying campaign with a visit here this season's House Coats—name something he would appreciate more. The cost is no hindrance for they start at $5 and for this price few houses would sell such coats. By adding a little more and getting one of these $6 or $8.50 coats you get much more quality and good looks.

$10 or $12.50 isn't too much to put in a gift for him; then why not buy him one of these blue or rich green House Coats with plaid trimmings and frog fastening, broadcloth material; also at the same price ($12.50) a garnet and blue-black velvet. Other coats at $13.50 and $15. Bath Robes from $3.50 Domet flannel to a pure wool at $20. Has he one.

Plenty of Beautiful Holiday Neckwear.

No Christmas ever found us with such Neckwear variety. Rich, splendid silks of unusual quality and beauty, so unusual that a customer remarked the other day, I thought these four-in-hand were $1 but I see they are tagged 50c. Its difficult to do justice in describing these $1.00 and $1.50 four-in-hands of all over figures, Persian designs and low tone stripes.

FINER, very aristocratic Ties at $2.50 and $3.50, to appreciate them you must see them.

OUR NEIGHBORS.

The Court of Appeals has reversed the case of Alexander vs. Gardner, etc., from Magoffin.

The Prison Board paroled Elias Napier sent from Knott county for eight years on a charge of manslaughter. He had almost finished his term and had a good record.

Roy Andes, aged 17 years, and whose home is in Cincinnati, met death under the wheels of a C. & O. west-bound freight train in Ashland Tuesday afternoon. He was trying to board the train and slipped.

The west-bound C. and O. train from the East was derailed near Mt. Savage, 23 miles west of Ashland, but none of the crew or passengers were seriously injured. Several of the passengers were slightly bruised.

Mrs. Sarah Kesner, reputed to be the oldest woman in Martin county, died at the home of her son-in-law, Wm. Goble, on Middle Fork last Sunday. Had she lived until the 14th of next May she would have been 105 years old.

There will be more work for the successful candidates in the Green-up county republican convention than they anticipate. The people of that county are mighty tired of their affairs being managed by a bunch of machine politicians, and there is a positive determination to have an entire change. It will come.

The Martin Circuit Court convened Monday week, Judge A. J. Kirk, presiding. Hon. John F. Butler, Commonwealth's Attorney, did not arrive until Tuesday. We will practically have no court this time as the docket is almost clean. There is no felony case on the docket, neither has there been a felony committed within the borders of our county in the last twelve months.—Inez Press.

Pikeville, Ky., Dec. 5.—Rev. Joseph Hall, for many years an able and prominent divine of Millstone, Letcher county, went suddenly insane and died shortly afterward. He was also a brilliant politician and educator, and had many friends in Pikeville, who learn of his unfortunate end with deep regret.

Mrs. Mitchell Maynard died Sunday evening, at her home in Lower West Pikeville, leaving an infant daughter only a few days old. She was, previous to her marriage, Miss Vivian Hamilton. She was a kind and industrious woman and a devoted wife. The remains were taken to her old home on Mud, in Floyd county, for interment.

Mrs. Eliza E. Knight, alias Ellen E. Peck, mentioned last week in connection with a recent swindle in lands claims, has a title to thousands of acres of the Walcott tract and the records in the Johnson county Clerk's office show that she has conveyed thousands of acres to various persons. Mrs. Peck or Knight, spent several weeks in Paintsville about sixteen years ago. She made a splendid impression and the people of Paintsville were greatly surprised to learn soon after her departure that she bore the reputation of being the greatest confidence woman in the United States.—Herald.

Attorney D. J. Wheeler is wearing a first grade John B. Stetson hat, a gift from Judge Ed. C. O'Rear, of the Appellate Court. Mr. Wheeler was campaign chairman of Johnson county during the recent campaign and Judge O'Rear spoke in the county. In discussing the political outlook Mr. Wheeler predicted a Republican majority of 1,300 in Johnson county. Judge O'Rear suggested that Mr. Wheeler telegraph him if his prediction came true, and to specify the size of his hat. Wheeler sent the message and the size of the hat and by express received the hat above mentioned. Wheeler says he wants to be campaign chairman next year.

Last Sunday night the dwelling house of Rev. Adam Crum, on Middle Fork, in Martin County, was burned to the ground. The family were away from home at the time.

Denton.

The Holness band has been holding a meeting at Russell's Chapel, which is four miles west of this place, with several additions to their church. The candidates for baptism last Sunday were nine in number. Several Denton people attended.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Newman from Huntington were visitors to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Newman, of this place last week.

Miss Sulse Calhoun has returned from J. J. Webb's where she has been staying for a few days.

Jas. Davis has change residences in the last few days. He now lives in the property of Kent Prichard.

A. J. Pennington, merchant, has gone to Ashland and Huntington on a business trip.

Miss Rachel Branham, who has been visiting relatives in West Virginia, for a few days has returned home.

The Denton Baptist church will have a Christmas tree in behalf of the little folks who have been so faithful in attendance.

Miss Myrtle Queen Miss Eunice Holbrook, M. F. Cooksey and Curtis Queen, of Glenwood were visiting relatives and friends in Ironston recently.

Mrs. Curnutte, of this place, received a telegram Saturday stating the death of her son, Wylie Lateral, who was killed near Louisa on the West Virginia side the other day.

Mrs. A. J. Pennington, who has been sick so long, is reported improved.

East Fork.

Sunday school at this place is progressing nicely. We hope to see Trinity one of the leading Sunday schools in this vicinity in the near future.

Mrs. Ida Lockwood, of Fort Gay, is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Riffe.

Uncle John Armstrong has gone on an extended visit up Tug.

D. G. R. Potette is housekeeping near Estep.

W. B. Ratcliff visited Miss Jessie Riffe Sunday.

Mrs. John Elswick is expected to spend Christmas with home folks.

Harve Church's child met with a severe accident by falling and cutting its forehead.

The cold snap is quite a blessing to this community, to both those that have and those who wish to do butchering.

Bertha Towler and Willie Reeves, of Coalton, were visiting Mrs. F. F. Hall last week.

Miss Maud Hulett has been very sick, but is improving.

Misses Sophie and Jessie Riffe were shopping at Bolt's Fork last Thursday.

Jim McGlothlin made a business trip to Portsmouth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Orpin contemplan a visit to North Carolina in the near future.

Clem Adkins will soon start a new huxter, wagon.

The Thanksgiving supper given to a number of young folks by J. P. Riffe, was quite a success. The evening was pleasantly spent, and thanks to the day and our venerable host. Those present were Misses Maude Hewlett, Ollie and Bessie Neal, Jessie and Sophia Riffe, Mrs. Clem Adkins, J. T. Riffe and C. Orpin. Messrs. Clem Davis, Bee Riffe, Jim Towler, Oscar Gilley, Fred Neal, Clem Adkins, J. T. Riffe and C. C. Orpin. Music furnished by Bee Riffe and Clem Davis.

Prosperity.

Death has again visited our community and taken from us, one of our best citizens, Sam Alley.

U. S. DISPENSATORY

Describes the Principal Ingredients Contained in Pe-ru-na.

Are we claiming too much for Peruna when we claim it to be an effective remedy for chronic catarrh? Have we abundant proof that Peruna is in reality such a catarrh remedy? Let us see what the United States Dispensatory says of the principal ingredients of Peruna.

Take, for instance, the ingredient hydrastis canadensis, or golden seal. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, that it is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women.

Another ingredient of Peruna, corydalis formosa, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic. So also is cubeba classed as a stomachic and as a tonic for the mucous membranes.

Cedron seeds is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. The seeds are to be found in very few drug stores. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a substitute for quinine.

Oil of copaiba, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes. Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

Send to us for a free book of testimonials of what the people think of Peruna as a catarrh remedy. The best evidence is the testimony of those who have tried it.

on Brushy.

There will be a pie mite at Elm Grove the 19th of December.
